Dear Mrs. Burnett,

I read your husband's obituary in The Times recently which was accompanied by a photograph of his Cape Town enthronement.

I was at Michaelhouse during his chaplaincy there, from 1950-'55. He treated my adolescent protests against 'high church' with patient tolerance (my family had been Plymouth Brethren) and I liked and respected him throughout our confirmation classes.

You were kind enough to entertain me on Sunday evenings on several occasions.

He would not have achieved what he did without your support, and I write to thank you for your part in the formative impression he made upon many of us.

at Michaelhouse and elsewhere.

Yours sincerely,
Ronayne Robert
