

Our dear Sheila & Mary, 24.11.94
It is not until recently that the news of Bill's passing reached us. We write to express our heart-felt condolences on your awful loss. A measure of your grief is our portion too. The memories of our mentor & friend come flooding back. For instance, I can remember walking & talking with Bill at Kenton before we came to join you at B. coul. "In the final analysis" he said "all we have to offer God is a dear body. The rest is up to Him." This is but one e.g. of a Kingdom principle which was imparted to us through the faithful witness of your husband & father respectively. We still look back on those times at B. coul' as the place where we were formed & established for the paths in which we now walk.
We are ∴ most grateful to God that He allowed us to pay our last respects to Bill last year. That makes it easier for us to look forward to a glorious re-union with him & you. Martin & Kim

*The Match between the Australian Eleven and Lord Hawke's Team Melbourne Cricket Ground
The Illustrated Australian News, circa 1870*

