Dearest Sheila 5247

What can one say that will help ease the pain of the loss of your beloved Bishop Bell. When we lose someone so close, time momentarily passes and life goes on, but the sadness always lingers inside of us. We can only give you our love and prayers and sincerely pray that you will find strength and courage in our Lord. We both have always had a deep and abiding love for both of you and will never forget Bishop Bell and his loving kindness and compassion. It was he who opened up the door for us and let us enter into Christ's love and allowed the light and message of Jesus flood our hearts. He gave to us the way and path to a deep and personal relationship with Jesus for which we are eternally grateful. He truly was a holy man of God and we are sure that when he entered heaven God said to him "well done thou good and faithful servant, come next week me, with sincere sympathy and deep love to you and the family

Blessings
