King Kong for London stage

CAPE TOWN, Tuesday.

JACK HILTON, the London impresario, has taken up his option on the African jazz opera, "King Kong," to produce this South African musical in London and, possibly, in New York.

Mr. Harry Bloom, the Cape Town author of the play, said today that he had just received a cable from the Hilton organisation, exercising the option which it had taken up.

The organisation had thus bought the play and music for the show.

Presentation of "King Kong" in London is expected to be about September. (See Page 9).
